

8- Hour Radiology Observation Requirement

Instructions- prospective Rad Tech students should select an observation site of their preference (may be at another site not listed below) and email and/or call the site to schedule an observation. Observers should be aware that sites may not be able to accommodate an observer for weeks to months from the initial observation request. Sites may require immunizations, policy forms, or other site-specific requirements to participate, prior to conducting in an observation at their site.

Students should represent themselves professionally by wearing business casual clothing during the observation and by bringing a copy of the observation form to the day of the scheduled observation to be completed by the prospective student and designated employee.
